About Conference

The International Conference on Global Sustainable Development (ICGSD) is the premier interdisciplinary forum for social scientists, life scientists, engineers, and practitioners to present their latest research results, ideas, developments, and applications in all areas of Sustainable Development on the areas of Environmental, Health, Energy, Economic, and Socio-Cultural Issues. The conference will bring together leading academic scientists, researchers and scholars in the domain of interest from around the world.

In addition, ICGSD's plenaries allow participants to hear thought provoking speeches and conversations from leaders in the field of sustainable development. Speakers and panelists include heads of state, CEOs, economists, and university professors, ICGSD is a truly global event with programming that spans across all time zones and welcomes participants from all across the world. Side events offer participants additional opportunities to meet with fellow participants, explore specific topics with more detail, and learn something new.

Why to Attend?

ICGSD is the top academic international conference for discussing sustainable development issues. The parallel sessions include over 200 oral and poster presentations from researchers and development practitioners from across the world, presenting their work on topics ranging from gender equity to climate change to economic development, all focused on solutions to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). In addition, ICGSD's plenaries allow participants to hear thought provoking speeches and conversations from leaders in the field of sustainable development. Speakers and panelists include heads of state, UN officials, CEOs, economists, and university professors. ICGSD is a truly global event with programming that spans across all time zones and welcomes participants from all across the world. Side events offer participants additional opportunities to meet with fellow participants, explore specific topics with more detail, and learn something new.

Who is in the Audience?

ICGSD brings together professionals from the private sector, academia, government, and civil society, along with development practitioners and students and faculty from all over the world's universities. We welcome participants from all sectors and experience levels.
